Now match the building and the countries.

Burj Khalifa is an outstanding skyscraper, which is the tallest building in the world. Its height is about 800 m. It is 200 m higher than Shanghai Tower, number two in top list of the tallest skyscrapers. It is interesting that even under construction of the tower the architect bureau concealed its height. It was made in order no one could engineer a taller building. It is surrounded by hotels and shop centers.

The Leaning Tower is the best-known sight of the Italian city of Pisa. Its building started in 1173. But five years later the tower began to tilt. The soft clay soil couldn't bear the weight of such a heavy structure. It took over 800 years to finish all the building works. Many engineers took efforts to straighten the tower but in vain. Now the Leaning Tower has seven bells and eight floors. Its maximum height is 55.86 meters. There are 294 steps to its top. Every year the tower attracts millions of tourists.
